NEWS:

Disgraced former AU President involved in furniture tossing scandal

By raving reporter Samantha Mason

Shamed ex-AU leader Ireef Shoebrahim* found himself embroiled in drama at this weekend's Indoor National tournament. Having been smoked to the zone and well and truly skyed (how the hell do you spell that??) by Something Smells Fishy's Tom Germain*, Mr Shoebrahim proceeded to take out his frustration on innocent outdoor furniture. Unable to stop after his blazing sprint to the keyhole, Germain had continued running out the door. Shoebrahim then snatched a chair from nearby, hurling it out the door. While Shoebrahim denied that the incident was premeditated, the chair bounced up to hit Germain in the face. Germain, clearly shaken and badly bruised, had this to say: "It seems like a pretty big coincidence that I had been owning him all game, and when he finally snaps, the chair he throws 'accidentally' bounces up to hit me. I mean seriously, the guy needs some help. He's got the crazy eyes". Upon returning to the gym after having a moment outside, Shoebrahim's rage continued. When another Something Smells Fishy team member Shaun Abby* suggested that it would be sensible to return the chair to the arena, Shoebrahim screamed from the other end of the court "F*ck you Shaun. And your Mum's a wh*re!". A deathly silence fell over the gym, where nearby school children were reduced to tears. But the incident did not end there. When he calmed down enough to return to the court, an unforced throwaway by Dr Alaam McPharlayne* was the trigger for another tirade. A shocked Dr McPharlayne was met with "What the f*ck Alaam, what the f*ck?!?!?!?". When tracked down after the game, McPharlayne expressed dismay at the outburst: "I mean, everyone knows I'm not an indoors player. What was he expecting? I have no idea what I'm doing indoors - I like to save my prowess for getting knocked out on the outdoors field." However, Dr McPharlayne's credibility was brought into question later that night when he was found drunk and crumping OVER a midget.

Shoebrahim is no stranger to controversy. A string of similar events (and alleged property destruction) has lead Shoebrahim to be 'black listed' by certain members of the ultimate community. Certain players unwilling to be identified here have even left hat tournaments after discovering he was put on their team.

We can only hope that this is rock bottom for Shoebrahim, and he will consider getting help.

* Please note: Names may have been changed to protect innocent midgets.
